Request Information

Describe the records sought in sufficient detail to enable USPS personnel to locate them with a reasonable amount of effort. Whenever possible, include specific information about each record sought such as the type of record; the title or case number of a specific document or report; the topic or subject matter, the name of the office, facility, functional unit or employees most likely to possess the record, the geographical location, such as a city and state, where the records are thought to exist; the date or general timeframe of the record's creation; and any details related to the purpose of the record. For additional information about how to submit a FOIA request, see 39 CFR 265.3(c). A request that does not reasonably describe the records sought, or does not comply with the published rules regarding the procedures to be followed for submitting a request, will be deemed to be an improper FOIA request. A request for any and all records about a broad subject matter is generally not a reasonable description.

Requesting Records About Another Person - you may receive greater access by including the record subject's written consent and verification of identity, or in the case the subject is deceased, evidence of proof of their death. A death certificate, a newspaper obituary, or comparable proof of death can be used to meet this requirement. Otherwise, records relating to another person and disclosure of the records could invade that person's privacy ordinarily will not be disclosed to you. You may add the authorization and verification of identity in the Privacy Waiver and Authorization attachment option below. To download an authorization form click here.

Requesting Records About Yourself - you must verify your identity and provide a signed request. Appropriate identification may include such information as your mailing address, employee identification number, or other personal identifier. You may also provide one of the following 1) a signed request that includes your identifying information and witnessed by a notary, or 2) a certification of identity statement immediately above the signature on your request letter: "I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on [date]." You may add your written, signed request and verification of identity in the Proof of Identity option below. To download a proof of identity form click here.

Description of Request

Thank you for quick fulfillment of two earlier requests, No. 2021-FPRO-00980 and No. 2021-FPRO-01334. They included monthly summary data showing the number of residential postal customers who filed change-of-address requests in 2017-2020. They contained separate tallies for temporary and permanent requests. They were
